ZELLO BASED REPORTING

Many areas of the country are seeing an increase in Zello based buff groups. A good number of these "organizations" are credible but the majority of them are not. Please make sure you know who you are listening to before accepting anything they transmit as good information. Far too many of these groups don't adhere to industry standards, much less know them, and are made up of young kids and people who have been dismissed from dispatching with credible notification services. We are not going to single out any group. If you listen for more than a few days it should be obvious.

The QA Team is bringing this to your attention because some dispatchers have been burned by these groups more than once. For example, Zello users may report heavy smoke showing when, in actuality, the IC is investigating smoke haze in a building.

We've found that Zello users make up their own alarm levels that can trip up even a seasoned buff. Do not be the dispatcher who sends a third alarm based on their assumption that two or more engines is a third alarm equivalent. As we all know, the IC is the only person who can declare an alarm upgrade. IPN does not embrace or allow "equivalent alarms."

The QA team has zero tolerance for falsified alarm information. If you do not hear it from a credible source, please stick to what you know. Do not rely on the uninformed folks at Zello. They will get you in trouble most of the time.

MONTHLY STATS

IPN dispatchers transmitted 18,005 alerts in the month of April. For the first time ever we sent an alert to every state in the US. Awesome work everyone!! We also sent alerts to 50% of the Canadian provinces. That is a work in progress but more people are jumping on scanner feeds then ever before. Hopefully we can achieve a milestone there soon.

In regards to the top 10, the usual characters are at the top of the heap. In fact, other than two outliers, everyone has held their positions for most of 2019. To make things a little more exciting the admin team has cooked up an idea for July. In addition to the Dispatcher of the Month, we will give out an additional T-Shirt to one member from each state or province that increases their position on the top 10. We will use the June stats for comparison. In addition to this, any State or Province that appears in the top 10 for the first time in 2019 during the summer months will also see a shirt awarded to a member of that chapter. Good luck to all. Happy paging!

Note: Since Florida is ALWAYS at the top of the heap, they have no way of moving up. If no other state or province is successful in moving to higher ground, we will send a shirt to one of the Florida dispatchers instead.

FIRST RESPONDERS AT RISK ON ROADS

A disturbing news story is making the rounds in the media: there is an increase in first responders being killed by distracted drivers.

While we love receiving your incident photos and including them in the IPN newsletter, we will reject any pictures that are taken while driving. Our primary goal is to send out real news in real time. While it's nice when we get photos of a paged incident, but not at the risk of our first responders, the very people we count on.

To put it bluntly: Be a responsible adult and DO NOT take photos of an incident while driving! And if you do, DO NOT submit them to IPN for the newsletter.

Review the alarming survey results on U.S. drivers who use their cell phone while driving as reported by the National Safety Council and the Emergency Responder Safety Institute:

- 71% take photos or videos when they see an emergency vehicle on the side of the road responding to a fire or a crash, or simply making a traffic stop
- 66% send an email about the situation
- 60% post the incident to social media
- 16% – more than 1 in 10 – said they either have struck or nearly struck a first responder or emergency vehicle stopped on or near the road

"I appreciate the efficiency and worth of IPN. IPN is an amazing source for what is happening in the Cook County, Chicago area, more so than any other source. Thank you!"
